- As a jamaat, we make plans and programs to win the pleasure of Allah. These gatherings are loved by God and their participants will be rewarded in this life and in the life after.. A true believer should always be trying to increase his spirituality.
- A Hadith states that the Holy Prophet (saw) was asked that what kind of gatherings should we attend? He replied that you should go to such gatherings which remind you of Allah and the life after, and gatherings which increase your religious knowledge.
- The youth of our jamaat should be very careful not to participate in any gatherings that falls outside the limits set by Islam. The Promised Messiah (as) has said that we should always remember that one's company and gatherings has gradual impact on him.
