Instances from the Life of the Holy Prophet

The Holy Prophet (P.B.U.H.) always tried to do his personal works with his own hands. In this regard Hadhrat Aisha says: 'He would patch his garments and sole his sandals.' She was once asked, 'How was he with his family?' She responded, 'He was in the service of his family until it was time for Prayer, at which time he would go and pray.' The Messenger of Allah never denigrated any type of food, if he liked it he ate it, and if he disliked it he left it alone. (Bukhari and Muslim)

Instances from the Life of the Holy Prophet

There is a statement of Hadhrat Aisha, the wife of Muhammad (P.B.U.H.): Allah's Messenger (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) used to patch his sandals, sew his garment and conduct himself at home as anyone of you does in his house. He was a human being, milking his sheep, and doing his own household tasks. (Tirmidhi).

Story from the Life of the Holy Prophet

Prophet collected firewood Holy Prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) never ever liked to relax while his other colleagues were busy in work. During the course of a journey, when the Prophet's party arrived at their camping place, his Companions immediately involved themselves with their respective tasks in setting up camp for the night. The Holy Prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "You have allotted no task to me. I shall go and collect the wood for cooking." His Companions protested and said; "O Messenger of Allah, why should you occupy yourself in that way when all of us are here to do whatever may be necessary?" He said: "No, No. It is my duty to do my share of whatever may have to be done," and he collected firewood from the jungle for cooking the food.

Hadhrat Musleh Maud(RA)

Hadhrat Musleh Maud Said: “The inception of Waqr-e-Amal has two basic benefits. First being the elimination of laziness, and the second the desire for slavery to never be born. When the world believes that no kind of work is demeaning and laziness is not an option, there will be no need of slavery in the world. “
